The Sport Fishing Institute of BC is a nonprofit society. Contributors and members are made up of a wide range of committed stakeholders including: fishing lodges, resorts, certified tidal angling guides, hotels, charter operators, manufacturers, distributors, tackle shops, dealers, boat manufacturers, regional airlines, individual anglers and key insurance industry organizations.

Our common goals are to ensure sustainability of our natural resources and that angling opportunities are maintained and promoted.

The SFI depends on membership fees and contributions from anglers and the many businesses that serve and benefit from them.

Certified Tidal Angling Guide program
World Class Standards for World Class Guides!

Working to ensure that anglers can enjoy incredible sport fishing for generations to come.

The SFI is your voice on:

- Fisheries policy development.
- Federal and provincial decisions affecting sport fishing.
- Promoting BC's most valuable fishery to the press, the public and key decision makers.

What does the SFI do for you?

- A portion of your membership fees will assist in the ongoing work to enhance and preserve sport fishing opportunities now and for future generations.
- The SFI works with other angling groups to provide a united voice for the recreational angling community. Our goals include protecting fish stocks and fishing opportunities.
- The SFI interacts with all levels of government to ensure that BC's recreational fisheries, and the social and economic benefits that they provide are recognized. Our activities include participation in cooperative government/industry research projects and with salmon/habitat enhancement organizations.

BC's certified tidal angling guides – the best in the business!

The new program, Certified Tidal Angling Guide (CTAG) – a provincial certification, was developed over the course of nearly 4 years in collaboration with numerous stakeholders and organizations including:

- Experienced guides and Guide Associations
- go2 and the Industry Training Authority
- Fisheries and Oceans Canada
- Transport Canada
- BC Ministry of Environment
- BC Ministry of Tourism, Trade, & Industry
- First Nations representatives
- Lodge owners
- Independent anglers

The CTAG program establishes best practices and standards for the estimated 2,000 salt water guides in the province ensuring the highest level of customer service and safety standards anywhere. In addition to satisfying all regulatory requirements, the CTAG program provides a unique and powerful way to promote a distinct and world-class recreational fishery in BC.
